Scholarships Funding Programme

In the current worldwide situation affected by the Covid-19 pandemic, access to good quality education is more than ever a priority.

Enko Education is a network of African international schools, increasing access to high-quality international education across Africa. Today, our 3,000 learners are safely studying from home, and our 500 teachers and staff are also safe.

The Covid-19 Support Fund

Some African families are particularly affected by the Covid-19 crisis, and struggle to pay school fees.

Enko Education is creating the Covid-19 Support Fund, to allow for donors to financially support those families during the crisis, by paying school fees for them on a monthly basis.

The Enko Sponsorship Programme

It will be more than ever a challenge for children from disadvantaged backgrounds to access good quality education.

The Enko Sponsorship Programme aims at offering opportunities to the most disadvantaged children across the continent, through 1 to 3 years scholarships paid by sponsors.

The Covid-19 Support Fund

The current Covid-19 pandemic is affecting the whole African continent:

- Some of our parents are particularly affected financially and can't afford school fees anymore, because they have lost their jobs, or are suffering from a salary cut.
- Schools have closed, and Enko Education has implemented distance learning in all schools, require teachers to go the extra mile to quickly adapt to new teaching methods and not compromise on the quality of education we deliver
- Feedback from families has been overwhelming, and we wish to maintain the quality of our online distance learning, by maintaining our teachers' salaries and motivation intact.

We are calling to our community to help our families affected by the crisis to pay for their school fees, so we can keep paying our teachers and delivering high-quality education to their children.

“The communication from the school management is just marvellous. Continue with this spirit of stakeholder engagement.”

Brian Lombe, Enko Parent in Lusaka, Zambia

“Enko teachers show so much patience with children. Their commitment and this love for their job and the children are commendable. Results speak for themselves! Thank you, you are heroes.”

Janaella Favor, Enko parent in Cameroon

Eligibility criteria & allocation process

Funds are allocated upon three criteria:

- The family can prove they have been financially affected by the Covid-19 crisis
- The family has always paid school fees on time and has no history of default payment with the school
- The student has been assiduously following the online lessons offered by the school.

Applications are collected in the schools. A dedicated Committee at group level review applications and decides on funds allocation.

Funds are allocated on a monthly basis, and renewed upon proof that the financial situation hasn't changed and that the student is still assiduously following online lessons.

Enko Education Sponsorship Programme

Enko Education aims at increasing access to the world's best universities, by increasing access to high-quality international education for learners across Africa.

To allow the most underprivileged ambitious students to benefit from our high-quality international education and to higher education opportunities, Enko Education implements a ambitious sponsorship programme aiming at offering scholarships to students who could not afford an international education otherwise. Our intention is that at least 10% of our students in our 15 African international schools benefit from scholarships.

Our scholarships are merit and need based, and recipients are selected through a complete process aiming at evaluating their financial need and academic and behavioural merit.

Testimonials

Being the youngest of a family of four children (I have an older brother and two older sisters), I am thankful to Okan partners for the opportunity they gave me to access to the curriculum that Enko Education offers. Me and my siblings being dependent of my mother only, I would not have been able to join Enko Ouaga without this scholarship.

My experience at Enko has made these years of my life unforgettable. It has been an instructive journey, full of joy and hard work, full of stress and laughter, full of challenges and weariness. However, it is all these that have contributed to these wonderful experience at Enko. One thing is clear, Enko is not just a school, It is life itself.
