Unlock their potential

In the current worldwide situation affected by the Covid-19 pandemic, access to good quality education is more than ever a priority.

Enko Education is a network of African international schools, increasing access to high-quality international education across Africa. Today, our 3,000 learners are safely studying from home, and our 500 teachers and staff are also safe.

The Covid-19 Support Fund

Some African families are particularly affected by the Covid-19 crisis, and struggle to pay school fees.

Enko Education is creating the Covid-19 Support Fund, to allow for donors to financially support those families during the crisis, by paying school fees for them on a monthly basis.

The Covid-19 Support Fund

The current Covid-19 pandemic is affecting the whole African continent:

- Some of our parents are particularly affected financially and can't afford school fees anymore, because they have lost their jobs, or are suffering from a salary cut.
- Schools have closed, and Enko Education has implemented distance learning in all schools, require teachers to go the extra mile to quickly adapt to new teaching methods and not compromise on the quality of education we deliver
- Feedback from families has been overwhelming, and we wish to maintain the quality of our online distance learning, by maintaining our teachers' salaries and motivation intact.

We are calling to our community to help our families affected by the crisis to pay for their school fees, so we can keep paying our teachers and delivering high-quality education to their children.

“The communication from the school management is just marvellous. Continue with this spirit of stakeholder engagement.”

Brian Lombe, Enko Parent in Lusaka, Zambia

“Enko teachers show so much patience with children. Their commitment and this love for their job and the children are commendable. Results speak for themselves! Thank you, you are heroes.”

Janaella Favor, Enko parent in Cameroon

- The student has been assiduously following the online lessons offered by the school.
